An increasing number of companies are improving supply chain management practices to increase returns to investors.

Join Dr. Stephen Timme of FinListics® Solutions and Citi Trade experts, David Conroy, Global Head of Supply Chain Services and Stuart Roberts, North America Trade Sales Head to explore supply chain management from a corporation's perspective.

The “professors” will discuss how the alignment of internal resources inclusive of sales, finance, operations and implementation of an integrated strategy can enable a corporation to maximize the economic value of the supply chain.

Some of the topics covered include:

- Utilizing supply chain management as both a strategic and tactical tool
- Linking supply chain management and cash generation and financial performance
- Understanding the “real” cost of holding inventory
- Financing “The Supply Chain”

Don't miss this one!

Citi's Trade University has another important session on the calendar for supply chain management. This one will be focused on the retail sector specific issues and will be a joint webinar with World Trade magazine, featuring Neil Shister, Editorial Director, as moderator.
